Organization Overview

The BC Oil and Gas Commission (Commission) is an independent, single-window regulatory agency with responsibilities for overseeing oil and gas operations in British Columbia. Regulatory responsibility is delegated to the Commission through the Oil and Gas Activities Act and includes specified enactments under the Forest Act, Heritage Conservation Act, Land Act, Environmental Management Act, and Water Act. The operating costs of the Commission are funded through industry fees and levies on a cost recovery basis.

The Commission's core roles include reviewing and assessing applications for industry activity, consulting with First Nations, ensuring industry complies with provincial legislation and cooperating with partner agencies. The public interest is protected by ensuring public safety, protecting the environment, conserving petroleum resources and ensuring equitable participation in production.

The regulatory responsibility of the Commission extends from the exploration and development phases of oil and gas activities through to facilities operation, and ultimately decommissioning of industry projects. It is charged with balancing a broad range of environmental, economic and social considerations.

B. Requirements and Responses

1. Summary of the Requirement

The BC Oil and Gas Commission (“the Commission”) is a Crown corporation responsible for regulating the full life cycle of energy resource activities in British Columbia. From site planning to restoration, the Commission ensures that activities are undertaken in a manner that protects public safety, safeguards the environment, supports meaningful reconciliation, and advances the public interest and contributes to B.C.’s economy.

The scope of the Commission’s roles and responsibilities is continuously evolving, and it is imperative to maintain a current and compliant, yet practical safety program. With this expanding slate of activities, the Commission must ensure that its existing policies, procedures, and processes meet all WorkSafeBC Occupational Health and Safety (“OHS”) Regulation requirements, as well as align with industry best practices.

The Commission is seeking a qualified safety professional to complete a wholistic assessment of its Safety Program and compliance with WorkSafeBC’s Occupational Health and Safety Regulations, and to provide recommendations on any areas where opportunities for improvement are identified.

2. Anticipated Schedule

The following table outlines the anticipated schedule for this RFP. All times identified in the table are in Pacific Time.

Request closing time	September 30, 2022
Interviews and reference checks, as required	TBD
Preferred Proponent selected by	October 15, 2022

3. Commission Situation/Overview

The Commission is the provincial regulatory agency for permitting and overseeing oil and gas activities, from exploration and development through to operations and ultimately decommissioning of oil and gas industry projects under British Columbia jurisdiction. The Commission’s current legislated mandate, regulatory framework, core activities and organizational structure are described in the 2021/22 – 2023/24 Service Plan available on the Commission’s website at www.bco.gc.ca.

3.1 Commission Responsibility

The purposes of the Commission, outlined in Section 4 of the Oil and Gas Activities Act, are briefly summarized as follows:

- (a) to regulate oil and gas activities in British Columbia in a manner that
 - (i) provides for the sound development of the oil and gas sector, by fostering a healthy environment, a sound economy and social well-being,
 - (ii) conserves petroleum and natural gas resources,
 - (iii) ensures safe and efficient practices, and
 - (iv) assists owners of petroleum and natural gas resources to participate equitably in the production of shared pools of petroleum and natural gas;
- (b) to provide for effective and efficient processes for the review of applications for permits and to ensure that applications that are approved are in the public interest having regard to environmental, economic and social effects;
- (c) to encourage the participation of First Nations and aboriginal peoples in processes affecting them;
- (d) to participate in planning processes;
- (e) to undertake programs of education and communication in order to advance safe and efficient practices and the other purposes of the commission.

3.2 Background

The Commission has identified the need for a holistic assessment of its safety program in its current state and function; particularly given the broad scope of work completed by Commission staff.

By reviewing the existing safety program relative to the work that Commission staff complete and the associated processes, then assessing alignment with applicable British Columbia OHS regulation and policy, the Commission aims to understand the overall functionality of the existing safety program, identify areas of potential regulatory misalignment, and identify opportunities for improvement.

Through completion of this assessment and review, the Commission hopes to achieve the following objectives:

- Develop a strong understanding of safety components and requirements associated with activities completed by all Commission staff.
- Gain insight as to the functionality of the existing safety program and associated processes.
- Assess the existing safety program for alignment with applicable provincial OHS regulation, policy, and industry specific guidelines.
- Identify any gaps or potential oversights with the safety program; and,
- Provide recommendations on any identified areas of improvement.

The successful candidate will, with the support of the Commission, review the Commission's current safety program and all associated processes for compliance and alignment with overarching OHS requirements.

4. Requirements

4.1 Scope of Services

The successful candidate who enters into a written contract with the Commission will, with the support of the Commission, provide a one-time review of the Commission's current safety program and all associated processes for compliance and alignment with overarching OHS requirements.

Given the Commission is completing work as a regulator of the Oil and Gas industry, the review of the Commission's safety program should be tailored to the specifics of this work with broad oversight of the Oil and Gas industry in mind, while considering all operational aspects of work completed by the organization.

The Safety Program and associated processes should be assessed for overall functionality, and any gaps within the program be identified. A comprehensive report outlining the Safety Program Review and an assessment of findings will be presented to the Commission upon conclusion of the project.

Allocated budget for this project is $30,000. Monthly updates will be provided to Commission staff regarding project progress and budget spent. Allocated time from commencement to completion of services should not exceed 8 weeks.

4.2 Content Requirements

To respond to this Request for Proposals, Proponents are required to submit the following information:

- Description of qualifications for requested safety and auditing experience, including examples of similar contracts and evidence of appropriate experience.
- Description and outline of approach to services. The Commission understands that this review is outside of the scope of a traditional safety COR (Certificate of Recognition) audit, therefore a detailed outline of the approach to services should be included.
- A schedule outlining resource allocation and competitive hourly rates in Canadian dollars (CAD).
- At least two current references.

4.3 Format Requirements

The following format, sequence, and instructions should be followed in order to provide consistency in Proponent response and ensure each proposal receives full consideration. With all pages consecutively numbered, the proposals should contain the following parts:

- a) Table of contents with page numbers.
- b) One-page executive summary.
- c) The body of the proposal in accordance with the above content requirements. This part is not to exceed 10 pages of combined text, tables, graphics, and other written presentation in support of the content requirements.

5. Evaluation

The evaluation of responses will be conducted by a team consisting of employees and/or contractors of the Commission. All members of the team will be bound by the same standards of confidentiality.

This section details all of the mandatory and desirable criteria against which proposals will be evaluated. Proponents should ensure that they fully respond to all criteria in order to receive full consideration during the evaluation.

The lowest price or any Proposal will not necessarily be accepted. The Commission reserves the right to refuse any proposed based on quality, service, price, reputation, experience and other criteria.
