Organization Overview

The British Columbia Energy Regulator (BCER) oversees the full life cycle of energy resource activities in B.C., from site planning to final restoration. Our role includes the regulation of natural gas, oil, hydrogen, ammonia, methanol and renewable energy sources such as geothermal, solar and wind power.

Our authority is established by way of the Energy Resource Activities Act (ERAA) and additional legislation related to heritage conservation, roads, land and water use, forestry, and other natural resources. We work to ensure industry compliance with provincial legislation to protect public safety and the environment, support reconciliation with Indigenous peoples, conserve energy resources and foster a sound economy and social wellbeing.

Our employees work out of seven locations to ensure our presence near energy resource activities: Fort Nelson, Fort St. John, Dawson Creek, Terrace, Prince George, Kelowna and Victoria.

We acknowledge and respect the many First Nations, each with unique cultures, languages, legal traditions and relationships to the land and water, on whose territories the BCER's work spans.
